

Sent To Los Angeles Office Of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on August 31, 2009

Please allow me to introduce myself. My name is Allison Young. I have been employed by Metalast since 1/31/07. One of my duties as Accounting Assistant is to review expense reports and bills before submitting them for payment.

I worked with Joe Radzvilowicz at Metalast. I am originally from Maine and Joe is from Connecticut. On a couple of occasions Joe had given me brochures of hotels back east. At first I wasn't sure what to think of that. If he was just somehow being nice or if he was testing the water to see what he could get away with. I was on guard when I was around Joe and made sure to keep conversations business related only. I was continually questioning expenses like the following that he submitted on his expense reports:

- Movies at hotels which cost $50.00-$60.00 each.
- Personal dinner expenses allegedly with other company sales reps – when researched it was discovered that these sales reps were not in the area at that time.
- Long distance telephone charges from hotels – the company cell phone should have been adequate for all long distance telephone needs.
- A personal $2,200.00 hotel bill and travel expenses for a business trip that had been canceled.

I also review David Semas' expense reports. He has never submitted personal expenses on his expense reports.

There are not a lot of people in today's society that have the integrity that David Semas has. Some of the qualities that make him an outstanding CEO are:

- Excessive hours worked due to dedication to the success of the company
- Personal financial sacrifices – he always sees that employees and creditors are paid first
- Honesty and integrity in all business dealings
- Fairness and compassion toward his employees

David goes above and beyond what I would expect from a CEO. Because of his hard work and dedication Metalast is a success today and has a bright future. And it's because of his honesty I love working for him. I'm honored to be an employee of Metalast because of David Semas and his business ethic.

Sincerely,

Allison Young

Accounting Assistant, Metalast International